Line to Gain

The next off-season teaching video is available for review. This video covers line to gain plays. The coaching staffs will also receive a video on this topic. These types of plays can be particularly challenging in replay. Several factors to consider:

- The line to gain is significant on 3rd and 4th down.
- Angles are critical when making decisions in this area. If the camera is not down the line it will distort the position of the ball. Many times, the line feed will be the best look down the line.

In addition, we have posted a 10-question quiz pertaining to line to gain plays, as well as the answers to the quiz on timing.

We will post the answers to the line to gain quiz and the next video/quiz in two weeks and continue that schedule up until the start of the season.

Please contact me with any questions or suggestions.
